

Stacey Givens, MBA

Partner, she/her/hers

CERTIFICATIONS & EDUCATION

- B.S. Marketing, Portland State University
- M.B.A. Project Management, University of Texas – Dallas
- Graduate Certificate Project Management – Naveen Jindal School of Management, University of Texas – Dallas
- Certificate Organizational Consulting, University of Texas-Dallas
- Project Management Professional (PMP) Certification

FOCUS AREAS

- Career Coaching for BIPOC Women
- Deaf and hard-of-hearing Communities
- Talent Development & Retention

MOST REQUESTED PRESENTATIONS

- Networking
- Leading with Inclusion
- Impostor Syndrome – The Authentic You

AWARDS & RECOGNITION

- Scholar with Distinction, University of Texas – Dallas

DIVERSITY CREW

Stacey Givens is a project management expert, an organizational consultant, and a career coach passionate about elevating women of color as leaders in corporate spaces. Her DE&I journey has led to speaking engagements on diversity, networking, and leadership to HR professionals, executives, and women throughout the Metroplex.

A lifelong learner, Stacey earned her MBA from the University of Texas at Dallas, a Bachelor of Science in Marketing from Portland State University, an Organizational Consulting Certificate and Graduate Certificate in Project Management, and a Project Management Professional (PMP) Certificate from PMI.

She hosts Real Talk Thursday's on Facebook Live where she offers expertise and lessons learned throughout her 20-year project management career for new and experienced project leaders. An avid reader, podcast fanatic, and blogger known for her conversation-starting eyewear, Stacey is the voice behind the Queen of Shades blog, where she writes about diversity matters, consumerism in the 21st Century, and her favorite topic: fashionable eyewear.